AAVA update: Interim Board submits resignations, NOMELEC schedules August 9 polls

Editor's Note: This article reflects information available as of July 17, 2026, before the newsletter's printing deadline. Developments occurring after that time are not reflected in this report. Readers are encouraged to refer to AAVA's official communication channels for the latest updates.

The Interim Board has informed DHSUD of its resignation. Meanwhile, NOMELEC has scheduled the AAVA elections for District Governors and Auditor General on August 9 following a series of postponements.

Interim Board developments

On July 13, the Interim Board informed DHSUD through a formal letter of the resignations of two of its members.

The letter further stated that the three remaining Interim Board members intend to resign from their positions and requested that DHSUD convene a general assembly at the earliest possible time to formally accept the resignations and appoint a new five-member Interim Board.

According to the letter, the three remaining members will continue to serve until their successors have been appointed by DHSUD to ensure continuity in AAVA's operations during the transition.

On July 16, the remaining three Interim Board members submitted letters of resignation to DHSUD stating that their resignations would take effect that same day.

Election developments

In its July 10 announcement, NOMELEC declared the scheduled July 12 elections a failure, citing an insufficient number of qualified candidates to constitute a majority of AAVA's Board of Governors.

The elections were originally scheduled for April 12 before being rescheduled to May 31 and later to July 12. The August 9 schedule is the fourth election date announced by NOMELEC this year.

Community reminder: Guidelines on pet and animal ownership

AAVA reminds residents to observe the Village's guidelines for keeping animals on residential property. These guidelines help promote a safe, orderly, and peaceful living environment while encouraging consideration for fellow residents.

The 2009 Village Handbook (p. 60) reminds residents that only domestic pets, such as dogs and cats, may be kept within residential properties, subject to AAVA regulations and control.

Animals not permitted under the Village Handbook

Residents are reminded that the following animals are not permitted within residential lots: reptiles, harmful fish (such as piranhas), cattle, pigs, sheep, ducks, geese, roosters, goats, and similar farm or livestock animals.

These guidelines are intended to help minimize noise, sanitation, and safety concerns while preserving the quality of life within the community. Residents are likewise encouraged to be mindful of how the animals they keep may affect their neighbors and to practice responsible pet ownership at all times.

By observing the Village Handbook and showing consideration for one another, everyone can help maintain a peaceful and harmonious environment in the village.

AAVA calls for community support in proper waste management

AAVA recognizes the challenges currently affecting waste collection within the village due to increased waste volume and operational constraints. In the past several weeks, the amount of waste generated has significantly increased, resulting in collection delays and backlogs.

AAVA continues to work on addressing these challenges and improving waste collection operations. At the same time, the Association is seeking the cooperation of residents in practicing proper waste segregation and disposal to help support more efficient collection and maintain cleaner surroundings.

Proper waste management is a shared responsibility. By sorting waste correctly, following collection schedules, and preparing waste appropriately, residents can help reduce collection delays and contribute to a cleaner, healthier, and more sustainable community.

Did you know?

The village has experienced a significant increase in waste volume, making proper segregation and responsible disposal practices more important than ever.

Six ways residents can help reduce waste collection delays

- Segregate properly. Separate recyclables, kitchen waste, bathroom waste, and other types of garbage before disposal.
- Follow collection schedules. Bring waste out only on designated collection days and return bins after collection.
- Keep recyclables clean. Remove food residue and keep recyclable materials separate from other waste.
- Prepare special waste properly. Bundle garden trimmings neatly and arrange private hauling for bulky items such as furniture, appliances, and construction debris.
- Do not mix waste types. Mixed waste may not be collected and can contribute to delays and sanitation concerns.
- Keep streets and common areas clean. Do not leave bins on streets longer than necessary or dispose of waste in vacant lots or unauthorized areas.

Through cooperation between AAVA and the community, we can help address current waste management challenges and continue to preserve the village's cleanliness and quality of life.

COMMUNITY UPDATES

BARANGAY AYALA ALABANG AND MAYNILAD HOLD DISCUSSION ON WATER SERVICE CONCERNS AND ISSUES

Barangay Ayala Alabang, led by Barangay Chairman Dr. Lester Suntay together with the Barangay Council, held a discussion with representatives from Maynilad Water Services and the Ayala Alabang Village Association (AAVA), represented by OIC Peter Bontigao, to provide updates and address water service concerns and issues affecting the community.

During the discussion, Maynilad outlined the mitigating measures being implemented to minimize the impact of water service interruptions while long-term infrastructure projects are underway. The company also presented its long-term solutions to strengthen the water distribution system, improve service reliability, and meet the community's growing water demand. Maynilad assured the public that water quality remains a top priority, with regular testing and monitoring to ensure compliance with national drinking water quality standards. Representatives also explained that temporary water discoloration following maintenance activities or pipeline works is promptly addressed to ensure the continued delivery of safe and potable water.

Maynilad also provided an update on the ongoing Daang Hari infrastructure project, which is expected to be completed within eight months to one year. Once completed, the project is expected to strengthen the water distribution network, improve water pressure, and enhance the reliability of water services in the community.

The discussion also covered water meter readings and questionable water bill charges. Maynilad explained the meter reading process and encouraged customers who notice unusual or unexpected charges to report them through the company's customer service channels so that each concern can be thoroughly reviewed. The company emphasized that all billing concerns are evaluated on a case-by-case basis to ensure accuracy, transparency, and fairness.

Barangay Chairman Dr. Lester Suntay, together with the Barangay Council, emphasized the importance of maintaining open communication between the community and service providers. The discussion reflects Barangay Ayala Alabang's continuing commitment to promoting transparency, strengthening collaboration with partner agencies, and keeping the community informed on issues that directly affect residents and stakeholders.

Harmonies of grace: Music for Love and Peace returns for Casa Miani

An extraordinary evening of music and compassion awaits as the annual benefit concert, Music for Love and Peace, returns to support the vital mission of the Casa Miani Foundation, Inc.

Guided by the Somascan Fathers for over 25 years, Casa Miani operates eight homes across the Philippines and Indonesia, providing food, shelter, education, and medical care to orphaned and abandoned boys aged 4 to 16.

With the cost of sustaining these homes rising significantly each year, this concert is essential to ensuring that these young boys continue to receive comprehensive care. The foundation's reach is also growing, with a new home in San Pablo set to open soon to care for abandoned infants who are available for adoption.

To champion this noble cause, a stellar lineup of iconic Filipino talent will take the stage. Headlining the evening is the country's 'Concert Queen', Pops Fernandez, bringing the immense charisma and vocals that have defined her career, from international stages to legendary television shows like Penthouse Live! and ASAP. The brilliant Jon Santos returns to the Casa Miani stage, ready to charm audiences with his masterful, multifaceted comedy, delivered through sharp punchlines, drag, and farce. Beloved balladeer Raymond Lauchengco joins the roster to deliver a beautiful wave of nostalgia, performing the timeless hits that have captivated fans for nearly four decades. Under the tireless direction of Musical Director Ding Mercado, who will also perform, the night promises pure magic.

The benefit concert will be held on August 22 at 7:30 PM at the Sylvia P. Lina Theatre, De La Salle Zobel, Ayala Alabang, Muntinlupa City.

For tickets, visit or call St. Jerome Emiliani & Sta. Susana Parish at 8842-4247, or contact Ludy Llana at 0917-8345552 or Joji Odonato at 0916-4521522.

Through Music for Love and Peace, the Casa Miani Foundation hopes to continue providing care, support, and opportunities for the children under its programs.
